

Fund To Furnish Loyola Chapel Inaugurated

A Chapel Completion Fund has been inaugurated at Loyola, it was announced by the office of the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., president of the College.

Contributions to the fund, which will be received during the remainder of this year and throughout 1950, will be used to defray the costs of furnishing Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen.

Furnishings Listed

Among the furnishings to be paid for by the fund are candle-sticks, sedilia, and chairs for the sanctuary. In addition to these the fund will provide the chapel's communion rail and pulpit, together with lighting fixtures for the sanctuary, the transepts and the nave.

Other items include the confessionals and the pews, the outside doors of the narthex and the great inside doors.

Auditorium Included

Appointments for the Charles M. Cobb Auditorium, which will occupy the building's basement, are included in the list of furnishings. Needed for the auditorium are the lectern, chairs, lighting fixtures, and other auditorium equipment.

The office of the president also announced that information concerning the estimated costs of these objects and memorial plaques will be made available to anyone interested in contributing.

Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen is dedicated to Loyola men who gave their lives in the Second World War. It will be completed before September 1, 1950.

Jesuit U. N. Delegate Visits Evergreen

The Rev. Jerome D'Souza, S. J., United Nations delegate from India, arrived here yesterday evening for a short visit to the Loyola campus.

He will leave Evergreen for Georgetown University around noon today.

Father D'Souza had been visiting at Woodstock College, Maryland, before coming to Evergreen.

Rector's Christmas Message

This year, as last year and all the years that we remember, we shall be celebrating the traditional Christmas, with the store-windows gaily with things to buy, with homes gay with festive decorations, with lists of precious presents to give, with homecomings, parties and dinners, with old-time carols springing to the lips and floating on the air. It will be the traditional Christmas in the Catholic sense, with relief after the penitential Advent weeks, with a salutary Confession, with the Crèche near the altar, with awe at the Communion rail, and with the sublimity of Christ's Mass. Through God's blessings, our Christmas will again be a Feast of joy and peace and good will toward all men.

We remember the tales that were told of the traditional Christmas celebrations in Germany, of the quaint Christmas customs of Poland, of the folk-festivities in Lithuania, of the pageantry in the village churches of Hungary and Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, and of the hushing white Christmas of Russia. This year, there will be no traditional Christmas in these unhappy lands. Under the iron rule of the anti-Christ, the remembrance of Christ's nativity is being obliterated and the celebration is banned by edict and force. There shall be no joy, no peace, no goodwill on Christmas beyond the iron curtain.

Let us make our Christmas a Feast of Reparation for the hate of Christ manifested by the dictators in these Christmasless regions. Let us pray that the modern Herods who seek the destruction of Christ and Christianity may be curbed and conquered. Let us beg God's grace for those who are being persecuted and martyred for their Faith. Let us share our Christmas with the Christmas of those who worship in the underground of Europe.

Whiteford, Carrell Gold Medal Essay Topics, Rules Announced

All contestants must have registered before the end of today.

"The Growth of the Port of Baltimore" has been selected by the History Department as the topic for this year's Whiteford Gold Medal contest, according to an announcement from the office of the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S. J., Dean.

At the same time it was made known that the English Department had chosen the topic "Was Alexander Pope a Poet?" for the Carrell Gold Medal essay in English.

The contests will be limited to seniors majoring in history and English, respectively. Whiteford contestants must submit two copies of their papers to the History Department before April 1, 1950, and aspirants to the Carrell medal must turn in theirs on or before the same date.

Prospective contestants must register either with the Registrar or with the department heads before the end of today. The medals will

All Senior Pictures Must Be In By Jan. 3

Fifteen members of the January graduating class and 35 July seniors have not yet been photographed for the yearbook.

Norbert Rottloff, senior layout editor, stated that if these men do not have their pictures taken before the end of the Christmas holidays, they will not appear in the publication.

He added that they should be photographed at the Segall Majestic Studio, approve the proofs as soon as they receive them, and return them at once.

Other class members were photographed last summer.

January Seniors Prepare For Class Banquet, Prom

January '50 seniors, under class president Harry Shock, are completing preparations for their Senior Week of social activity, which will begin on Saturday, January 21, and end on Friday, January 27.

A class banquet at the Hotel Stafford on Tuesday, January 24, will get the week underway. The Senior Promenade, to be held at the Rolling Road Country Club on January 27 from 9:00 till 1:00, will bring the pre-graduation activities to a close.

Restricted To Class

Both of these affairs will be restricted to members of the January Class and their dates. Sam Proctor's orchestra will provide the music at the prom.

Co-ordinating the preparations for these activities is the Senior Week Committee, with Daniel Rochowiak, class vice-president, and Carter Berse, class secretary, serving as co-chairmen.

Other Committees Listed

Six other committees have been named to carry out plans for the prom. The Publicity Committee consists of Edward Kennedy, chairman, Edward McGinty, and Thomas Judkins.

John Mueller heads the Patrons Committee. Working with him are James Edelen and Edward Martin.

The Ticket Committee, under William Maas, chairman, includes Leonard Stein, Francis Kearney, and Thomas Judkins.

Attended Retreat

Supervising the Decorations Committee for the dance is John McManus. He is assisted by Michael McNeal and Robert Schell.

The Reservations Committee comprises Robert Miller and William Eggleston, who also serve on the Orchestra Committee with Carter Berse, chairman.

Members of the January '50 Class attended a special retreat at Maresca-on-Severn from Friday, December 9, until Sunday, December 11. Attendance at the retreat was obligatory.

Freshmen Will Vote After Yule Holiday

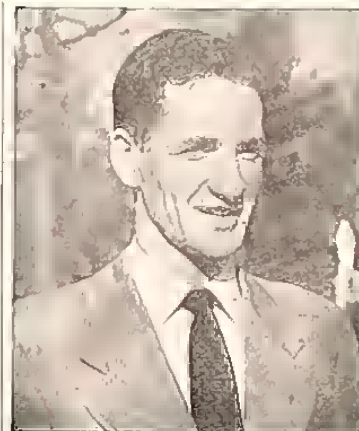

Nominations for the presidency and other offices of the June '53 Class will be reopened during the first week after the Christmas holidays. The names of new nominees, in addition to those whose petitions were received before the first election, will be placed on the class ballot.

The freshmen will vote again during the week following the nominations.

June '53 elections held on November 11 were invalidated, because less than 25% of the 246 freshmen came out to vote.

Believing that this election failed owing to insufficient publicity, the Student Council appointed a committee composed of Edwin Lelmkuhler, Bertram Morales and Edward Pula to investigate the situation and to ensure proper notification of class members concerning the new election.

The Council has also urged all members to do their parts in publicizing the polling.

July '50 Prom Will Be Formal

This year's Junior Prom will be formal with corsages and favors. Questionnaires filled out by members of the July '50 Class indicated an overwhelming preference for a formal dance notwithstanding the additional expense of such an affair.

Open to the entire student body, the prom will be held in the ballroom of the Emerson Hotel on Friday, January 27. Bill Malsel's orchestra will play.

Tickets for the dance are $3.60 per couple. Those who wish to become program patrons are asked to contribute $.50 per person or $.75 per couple.

Arrangements for the ball have been under the direction of Emerson V. Clarke, Jr., co-president of the class, who said, "With the full co-operation of the student body this dance should be one of the outstanding events of the winter season. It is of the utmost importance that all co-operate by obtaining their tickets at the earliest possible convenience."

This social event will be the first under the class's new officers, who were elected on November 4.

Dean Announces Examination Dates

Examinations for the first semester will be conducted from Monday, January 16, to Friday, January 20, inclusive. A list of all classes and their respective examination dates has been posted on the main bulletin board in the Library Building.

The Dean's office also announced that no student will be exempted from taking examinations in the subjects that he is carrying unless he attains a semester average mark of 90 or above in each and every subject.

Students who have incurred a failure in a subject because of absences from class in excess of the limited number will not be eligible to take the examination in the overcut subject.

Eleven Loyolans Receive Who's Who Listing

Eleven Loyola seniors have been accepted by Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Six of the students honored—George Herman, Edward McNeal, Francis Meagher, William Mullikin, Daniel Rochowiak, and Harry Shock—will be graduated in January. The others—Emilio Blanco, Edward Clarke, James Dietz, Ferdinand Lelmkuhler, and Walter Smyth—are members of the July '50 Class.

These men were selected by the Student Council on the basis of their scholarship, service and extracurricular activity. Their nominations were then forwarded to the national headquarters of Who's Who for acceptance.

Herman, Loyola playwright, was president of the Dramatic Society

Emilio A. Blanco
Student Council President

until his recent resignation. McNeal has been very active in Sociality affairs, and is vice-president of the Council. Meagher is president of the Athletic Association.

A prominent comedian, Mullikin has distinguished himself both on and off the campus. Rochowiak is president of the physics club and vice-president of his class, of which Shock is president.

Blanco is president of the Student Council and active in the Mendel Club. President of the Debating Society, Clarke is also editor-in-chief of The Greyhound. Dietz is managing editor of the same publication. Lelmkuhler is editor-in-chief of the Evergreen Annual, Loyola yearbook, and Smyth is secretary of the Council and active in the Mendel Club and the IRC.

Chapel Content Checked For Sidewalk Kibitzers

The ten-month construction schedule of the Memorial Chapel tends to overshadow the careful drafting and installation of the stone, metal and wood components. No less than 32 sub-contractors are supplying materials.

On the site, superintendent Thomas Grey co-ordinates the work of the participating firms. He explains that a much more solid and more artistic type of construction than the usual will be represented in the chapel, and calls it one of the best constructions on which he has worked. Baltimore district manager is Mr. John Rohde.

McShain Activities Numerous

The $600,000 Chapel is but one in a current list of John McShain enterprises which includes the White House renovation among $100 million worth of buildings under contract.

James Colbourne, engineer, receives the flow of incoming materials at Evergreen from all over the map. There's limestone from an Indiana firm to be used as trim around windows and fixtures; polished granite supplied by a Baltimore corporation will go into exposed trim areas; Alberene stone will face stair treads and other areas of heavy wear; artificial finishing stone is to come from a Boston company.

Steel From Maryland Firm

Structural steel from a Maryland distributor will support the weight of the stonework. Reinforcement steel has already gone into the concrete foundations. Sheet metal for flashing and roofing will be supplied locally.

A local contractor will furnish the woodwork and other mill products for the interior, and the windowframes will come from Jamestown, N. Y. Plastering work is to be done by a Baltimore company.

Then come the plumbers, electricians, plasterers, painters, candle stick makers, and ushers with collection plates.

Biologists Are Planning Talks

Emilio Blanco, David Owens, John Mercaldo, George Bauerschub, Donald Cobill, John Eckert, and Charles Foley will present prepared talks at future meetings of the Mendel Club. The subjects of the lectures will be important topics of biology.

The first paper of the series was given on October 25, when J. Jacques Gunning spoke on "Bioluminescence," dealing with the production of "cold light." On November 15 J. Waller Smyth presented a paper on "Evolution, Old and New," and on December 13, Stephen Krizan talked on "Cybernetics."

Officers of the club are Smyth, president; Gunning, vice-president; Bauerschub, secretary; Krizan, treasurer; and James Hiser, sergeant-at-arms. Theodore Evans, C. Edward Pfeller, Jr., and Walter Welzant serve as librarians for the group. They also take care of the Biology Library.

The Rev. Joseph S. Didsch, S. J., professor of biology, is faculty moderator of the Mendel group.

Yule Program By Glee Club Given Sunday

Christmas carols filled Evergreen's Alumni Gymnasium as Loyola's Glee Club presented its annual Yuletide program on Sunday, December 11. The club, directed by Mr. Felice Iula and accompanied on the piano by William Yanzuzi, sang many traditional Christmas songs, including Adieu Fidelis, O Little Town of Bethlehem, The First Noël, Carol of the Bells, and Silent Night.

Among the solos were Nazareth, by Salvatore Battaglia, bass-baritone; The Seven Joys of Mary, by Robert Schell, bass; and Virgin's Shmber Song, by Edward Dorlan, tenor.

Among other numbers by the club were Bring a Torch Jeanette, Isabella, and Angels We Have Heard on High. The program was varied with the Glee Club Quartet's rendition of the spiritual Sweet Little Jesus Boy, and concluded with Silent Night, Gesu Bambino, The Steigh (A La Russe) and the Alma Mater.

Alumni Doings

This Year's Alumni Retreat Sets New Attendance Record

by John J. Pugh, '43

Sixty members of the Alumni group, along with ten members of the Senior Class and five visitors from Washington, D. C., comprised the largest number ever to attend an Alumni Retreat at Monresa, in the memory of Father Lloyd, director. For those who attended, no congratulations are due, for they benefited no one but themselves; for those who didn't, we send sincerest condolences.

The nasty tone of the last issue of this column may have accomplished a small puncture in the complacent armor which protects some of our associates. Some vapors of news have escaped in this direction:

Bill Cahill, '47, is now engaged to Miss Patricia D. McVey, of Baltimore . . . congratulations, Bill!

Leo (I want a second baseman) McCarthy, '40, has finally got one under contract after two unsuccessful overtures (both of which prospects made their appearance in skirts). The future Oriole was born on Nov. 26 . . . Play Ball!

Eugene E. Bracken, '41, received his Master of Education Degree this Fall from the University of Md. . . ah, Teacher!

The next highlight on the Alumni Calendar is the Annual Oyster Roast which will be held this year at the College Gym on Sunday, Jan. 15. This notice should certainly be advanced enough so that you can reserve this date on your own calendar.

Exemption Complaint, Dancing, Election Problem Busy Council

Suggested modifications of the recent changes in the exemption system and a proposal to sponsor weekly dances in the Oak Room were heard by the Student Council at its meeting of December 1. The problem of Club elections again arose.

James H. Dietz, of A.S.N., proposed a recommendation that the new exemption requirements be ameliorated since they fail to provide for variance in marking between professors and would cause "great mental anguish" among students unsure of their exact averages. The motion was seconded and passed by an overwhelming vote.

Math Club Will Meet On Jan. 9

There will be no Math Club meeting today owing to the beginning of the holidays. The regular Friday talks will be resumed January 6, when Mr. Donald M. Slager, of the Physics Department, will speak at 2:20 in 101.

Mr. Raymond Huck, assistant professor of mathematics, addressed the club on December 9. Expounding on his topic, "The Fibonacci Series," Mr. Huck explained the underlying principles, the history and the practical applications of this branch of mathematics, which involves the "golden mean" of Greek mathematical aesthetics.

"Hyperbolic Functions" were discussed by John Ylenger, a senior majoring in Math on December 2. He outlined their uses and their relation to the trigonometric functions.

Previous speakers were Mr. Walter S. Dawkins and club president J. Joseph Coyne. Mr. Hansford L. Farris will lecture during the coming term.

Several field trips are being planned with the Physics Department, which usually invites members of the Math and Physics clubs to participate. Many science majors are members of both clubs, and they often work together in similar activities.

Election Methods Debated

Council sponsorship of regular dances in the Oak Room on Friday nights not otherwise occupied was suggested by George Strohecker of the Junior Sodality and approved. The proceeds of the cost-plus affairs will go to the Memorial Chapel Fund.

The amendment proposed by Edward A. Pula, of NFCCS, and providing for reinstatement of the primary system with ten nominees in the club elections came up for discussion and was tabled until the present method could be further tried.

Speaker Plugs Benefit

Edward McNeal's motion to allow publicizing of elections with Council funds, which has been postponed until the consideration of the amendment, failed to come off the table.

Miss Mary Carroll Dunegan, of Notre Dame of Maryland, spoke on behalf of the NFCCS benefit concert given at that school by the Austrian student chorus from the University of Vienna on December 11.

Cosmopolites Total Seventy In New List

Recently revised lists of Cosmopolitan Club membership show that there are 70 students attending Loyola from outside the city and county of Baltimore. Twelve East Coast states are represented, as well as Germany and the Philippine Islands. Maryland leads the list with seven boarding students and 21 commuters. Pennsylvania is next, with 15; New York is the home of eight, and New Jersey claims four.

Three are from the District of Columbia, with two each from Massachusetts, Virginia and South Carolina. Vermont, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Germany and the Philippine Islands each have one representative at Evergreen.

Club president Andrew J. O'Donnell, a Pennsylvania resident, has announced that elections will be held in the near future to determine officers for next term. He will be graduated in January.

Three Class Presidents Are Calvert Hall Grads

Three of the four men currently holding class presidencies are graduates of Calvert Hall College.

Charles Clark, co-president of the July '50 class, was graduated from the Cathedral Street high school before entering the armed forces, as was Richard Wojtek, sophomore president. Edwin Leimkuhler, 1961 executive, was graduated in 1947.

Mustaches Are No Problem For Those Who Can Beard

"Aw-w, your fodder's mustache!" That was the derogatory call of the freshman to the senior not too many years ago, but now when the frosh want to scurn the seniors they have to apply the insult more directly. They have to say "Aw-w, your mustache!"

How does it feel to raise foliage under your nose? Few of the dozen or so mustached men at the College seem to know it's there. As one young man said, "I raised it and forgot it. I just check on it every morning to make sure it's even." The prospects of an uneven mustache must be frightening to the uninitiated.

Critilog

Herman Retires As Movie Critic

This may or may not be the death song of the Critilog. Please, no cheering while I'm talking. The fact is that the author of this column is at last retiring from the ranks of the student body, and, as yet, no one has stepped forward to take up the pen of the critic. The question is, why?

Criticism is a common disease, often found among those who cannot understand and have no desire to learn to understand. But those who criticize for constructive purposes, in hope that the amateur who falls short of professional quality will improve, that the immoral and the illogical in literature will bow to the literate and the artist, then these few are doing a good work by their criticism.

Every reader, theatregoer or simply sensitive person should be critical of the things foisted upon him. He should ask questions, probe the problems, and find the answers for himself. He should have a set of "likes" and "dislikes" and a set of arguments for these likes and dislikes. These arguments should be based on a fundamental knowledge of the topic and the problems surrounding every situation. But if you can look at a motion picture, or a play, and say, "I don't like this, because the acting is stilted and unnatural" or "the direction is obviously artificial and trite" or "the story is essentially bad," if you can say this and prove your points, then, friend, you are a critic; and your self-questioning will make you a better citizen.

So, from the olde critique, farewell.

Debaters Lose Two Contests

The Robert Bellarmine Debating Society opened its season on December 2 against Washington College, which was victorious over Loyola in a close decision. After a close verbal battle, Loyola, represented by James Dietz and Joseph Blair, was defeated 7 to 6.

During the past two weeks a full schedule of debates has occupied the time of the Bellarmines. Georgetown University, Washington College, and Johns Hopkins were among those on the schedule.

Commencing sometime in January or early February, the debaters plan to travel to New York and Pennsylvania, where they will discuss the merits of nationalization of the basic nonagricultural industries with such colleges as La Salle College, Columbia University, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Later in the season a trip is tentatively scheduled for Virginia, Washington, and North Carolina. Catholic University, Gallaudet, and Randolph-Macon are several of the institutions being contacted for debates.

Last Friday Loyola lost a closely contested debate to Holy Cross College, Worcester, Massachusetts. Evergreen, represented by Francis X. Trafnor and Edward O. Clarke, upheld the affirmative. Bertram Morales, vice-president of the society, served as chairman. The Rev. J. Scanlan, S.J., was judge.

IRC Plans To Attend Fall Forum In Canada

Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, moderator, has announced that Loyola's chapter of the International Relations Club is planning to attend a convention in Canada next fall.

At the National Convention of the IRC, held during the Thanksgiving weekend at Georgetown, Montreal was selected as the location of the next forum. Loyola's attendance at this convention depends on the condition of their treasury next year. Dr. Kirwin expressed his desire that sufficient funds would be available.

The Maryland Chapters of the International Relations Club met at Notre Dame of Maryland on December 6. Modern World Problems was the topic of their discussion.

The IRC's of Loyola, Goucher and Hopkins held a joint meeting at Johns Hopkins University on December 10. Future plans of the Maryland units were discussed at this meeting.

Noted Celebrities Reveal Favorite Hollywood Roles

TYRONE POWERLESS: "My favorite role was this scene from my last picture, She Wore A Purple Choker, in which I played Tom, a young man who stands among a mob of 1,500 and keeps yelling, 'To the guillotine with them!' This, I think, exposes Tom as an upright, forceful personality with a mind of his own; and this was my most dramatic role."

HEADY LAMOOSIE: "My favorite was the role of Silvia, the ash tree, in the epic, A Tree Grows In Hamilton. As I stood there, lifting my arms to heaven I felt as if I had succeeded in becoming that tree. My thirsty roots cut into the ground and symbolized the complete theme of the picture, which was the struggle of mankind against the forces of evil and such. I sincerely believe I succeeded in making an ash of myself in this film."

WASHER BENDIX: "The role of baseball immortal Lucius Abernathy in the epic, The Epic Saga of Lucius Abernathy, Baseball Immortal, in which I played Lucius Abernathy, was my favorite role. I played Lucius Abernathy. However, since I didn't look like Abernathy, they decided to film only my feet and my voice—that is, until they discovered I didn't sound like Abernathy either. Finally they cut the Abernathy role to a walk-on, made the star a cookie salesman outside the Stadium."

Joseph J. Lee Dies Suddenly

Joseph Jenkins Lee, prominent Loyola alumnus, died in Baltimore recently at the age of 79.

Much of his early life was spent in South America, where he served as United States minister to Ecuador, Guatemala and Honduras. During the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt, Mr. Lee was appointed consul at Panama.

In the Cuban campaign of the Spanish-American War, in 1898, he served as a trooper with the Rough Riders.

A requiem mass was offered for Mr. Lee at St. Philip and James Church. Burial was in the New Cathedral Cemetery.

not be given unless at least three students try for each one.

All essays must be not less than 3,000 words in length. They are to be typed on standard-size paper, with the text double-spaced and a one-inch margin left on all four sides of each sheet.

Dr. Harry Kirwin, of the History Department, and Mr. Gustav Herzer, of the English Department, will advise contestants on material sources.

Last year's Whitford winner was Mark N. Schaatz, who wrote his prize-winning essay on the early history of the Calvert family in Maryland.

The Carrell Gold Medal for English was not awarded for the 1948-49 scholastic year.

Recently, the regulations governing these and three other gold honor medals—Carrell medal for biology, McTavish medal, and McNeal medal—were so changed as to allow only seniors majoring in the subjects for which they are given to receive them.

A Significant Change

The Labor Government has been voted out of power in Australia. It is perhaps too soon to comment on the advisability of this significant political change. This development indicates, however, that another nation has moved a little farther to the right. This, in itself, is important.

Whether socialism is closely akin to communism can be contested, but history seems to indicate that the two are somewhat related. The one may not necessarily preclude the other, but socialism does create a tendency towards the left. This tendency, no matter how slight, could prove to be a deciding factor in years to come.

It is to be hoped that Premier-elect Menzies and his party will be able to solve the intricate problems of Australia, for England's Labor Party will come to trial in July.

Almost There

Loyola is well on the way to achieving representative cheering at its basketball games. Both students and friends joined together in the recent Morris-Harvey game to form an impressive cheering-section. The student body has the spirit and the will. The only thing that remains to be accomplished is more organized cheering. This could easily be effected by co-operation with the cheerleaders and by using the college cheers.

From The Reader

To The Editor of THE GREYHOUND
Dear Sir:

In reading the last issue of your most admirable newspaper, I was struck by the announcement of the simultaneous resignations of the president and vice-president of the Loyola Dramatic Society. Both Mr. Herman and Mr. Clarke have seen fit to... shuffle off into the off-stage obscurity of hasbeens.

Gentlemen, when two most powerful posts are vacated by two most efficient men, I would venture that something is amiss...

Have the officers been purged? Has the sophomore class taken control of the school?... THE GREYHOUND... would do well to inquire into the reasons and proximate causes for this change. Have the late officials any warnings to sound to those who aspire to the highest chairs of the society? A mythical Oscar avails the man who unveils the true facts and raises the curtain on this highly absorbing mystery.

Sincerely,

A THESIAN OF NOTE

EDITH'S NOTE: Mr. Herman will be graduated in January, and Mr. Clarke has retired because of pressing obligations in class work. It's a nice letter though, and we need writers. Hmm?

Patti Andrew Shows Latent Solo Talent

by Richard Coleman

Well, another two weeks and we have another deadline to meet. I never seem to get around to them on time. But to catch up with lost time, let's take a look at the latest records produced by the biggest names in the business. The Andrew Sisters have backed up their great hit I Can Dream, Can't I with a corny thing called Open Door, Open Arms. Just corny enough to go to the top of the list. I guess Decca won't mind that too much. It seems to me that the former have mentioned and the rendition of it by Patti Andrew was certainly different from all of their other recordings. Possibly Decca should cash in on Patti's solo work since it was so overwhelmingly accepted. Patti does not do a solo on Open Door.

Tony Martin's having lots of hits lately, two of which are Toot, Toot, Toots, Goodbye, and There's No Tomorrow. The latter is just new words to the old tune of O Sole Mio. Tony is continuing his string of hits by issuing this week a thing called Maria. I think it's old, but I don't really know. He does as big and as good a job on this one as he does on There's No Tomorrow.

Everyone seems to have something to say about the drop-off in sales of phonograph recordings, so I might as well put in my two cents' worth. I disagree with the idea that all these various speeds have too much to do with it. A little, yes. But, only a minor part of the cause. People are not buying phonograph records, because they are buying television sets. When they start plunking down two and three hundred bucks for an average TV set, there isn't much ready cash left to buy records. For that matter, there isn't much left to buy anything. For some reason people want TV sets. Why? I'll never know! In reference to the various speeds, it seems to me that since a lot of people don't have machines to play all the records available, they're not buying any records. The old days sure were nice, weren't they?

From the Library

Everybody talks about Russian Communism, but nobody seems to do much about it. Most of us, like Cal Coolidge's pastor preaching on sin, are "ag'in it"—vaguely enough. Exact information might make our opposition more effective. At least it could brighten our conversation.

Straight news about Russia is hard to come by. But David Dallin, of Yale, and Nicholas Timashev, of Fordham, are two exiled scholars well qualified to speak from first-hand experience. Since their youth in Russia both have long studied the international ferment in Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, and France.

The Rise of Russia in Asia, Dallin's latest book, is in your library, along with his Russian and Post-war Europe, Soviet Russia and the Far East, Forced Labor in Soviet Russia, and The Real Soviet Russia. So are Timashev's The Great Retreat: Growth and Decline of Communism in Russia, Religion in Soviet Russia, Three Worlds, and more general works like his new Sociology (1949).

Running With The Hounds

by Bob Bourbon

Highly-rated Morris-Harvey College and their talented forward, George King, pulled into Evergreen last Saturday night for a basketball contest, and despite inclement weather outside, and poor collecting inside, the Greyhounds walked off the floor with a very satisfactory 80 to 67 win. In so doing the Green and Grey played their finest game to date, exhibiting a diversified attack in which ten of the twelve members of Coach Lefty Reitz's squad broke into the scoring column.

Mr. King, who at this writing needs 585 points to break our own Jim Lacy's all-time collegiate record, was all that he was supposed to be, and maybe a little more. The six-foot-even forward, with 34 points to his credit for the evening, garnered consolation scoring laurels, and his blazing speed, coupled with an menacing shooting eye, made him a pretty tough hombre to stop.

Bob Anderson, with 24 points, played his usual bang-up game, and was one of the prime movers in the defeat of the Mountaineers, who had run up 105 points in their last outing previous to the Loyola game. Vince Gallagher and Mel Baldwin, who for the first three games of the season had been occupying the role of uniformed spectators (to earn an expression) came into their own tonight, and their aggressive play may well merit them more extended action in games to come.

Freshman Basketball

While most of the current and pre-season basketball spotlight is and has been centered on the varsity, nevertheless it is becoming increasingly apparent to Greyhound cage followers that this year's freshman five isn't a half-bad outfit at all. So far they have pulled over four opponents, and their 52 point offensive average per game doesn't quite clearly tell how completely they have outclassed their opposition. Fort Meade came the closest to winning, yet they lost by 15 points, 55 to 40.

The team, under the tutelage of Jim Lacy, is composed mostly of local boys, but the standout thus far this season has been a young man from Brooklyn, N. Y., "Nap" Doherty by name. A fine defensive guard, Doherty also has been pacing his teammates in scoring, and his 52 point total stands as factual proof of his value to the team.

This Freshman squad is well worthy of student attention and support this year, because after all, any time you come to see a Loyola varsity in action during the next three years, these are the boys you'll be paying to see.

It Can, And Probably Will, Happen Here

We've heard of ping-pong balls being lost behind lockers, and we've heard of golfers who have exhausted a bag full of their best Wright and Ditsons, trying to hit a little hole in a plot of grass at the end of a 300-yard long fairway, but this one tops them all. At the beginning of the basketball season, we had a little trouble keeping an eye on our equipment. A freshman manager left two brand-new basketballs on a radiator in the Athletic room, and by mistake someone turned on the heat. Both of them blew up. As far as we know they're still up.

Anyhow, to get back to the story, sometime about midway in last Saturday night's Morris-Harvey game, some one was cutting in for a layup on the basket at the west end of the gymnasium, and someone else thwarted his attempts at scoring, but in the meler the ball became lost beneath the stands. Recruits were volunteered, and after minutes of wading through assorted editions of last year's newspapers, and notwithstanding several pairs of beady eyes which watched the entire procedure with scepticism the ball was recovered from obscurity and the game went on.

Cool Water

Two nights later, against Baltimore U., we had to stop the game again. It appeared that there were deposits of a watery substance upon the playing floor, and the general consensus of opinion seemed to be that it was water. Jake Fisher, coach of the swimming team, offered the suggestion that maybe the swimming pool was leaking upstairs, but after examining his minor premise, Coach Reitz said it couldn't be.

Then someone remembered that it had been raining outside earlier in the evening, and that it wasn't inconceivable that it could still be raining. The roof was leaking, it was obvious.

For the rest of the evening Loyola's manager was part of a towel brigade. Just to keep 'em from the foggy, foggy dew, or snoring.

ACTION UNDER THE BASKET, as Loyola scores again in the game against Morris-Harvey, played last Saturday night at Evergreen.

Baltimore U. Bows 79-47; Cagers Score Fourth Win

Loyola's Greyhounds "stung" the Baltimore University Bees last Monday evening by registering a 79 to 47 triumph over Coach Frankie Skaff's charges.

With the entire Green and Grey squad sharing in the scoring, the Loyolans had an easy time in chalk-lug up their second Mason-Dixon Conference victory of the season.

Anderson Paces Penn Scoring

The Evergreen quintet built up an early lead that was never overcome by the visitors from lower Charles Street. At half-time the Hounds held a 42 to 12 advantage.

Once again it was Bob Anderson leading the scoring parade for the varsity as he netted 18 markers for the evening. Mike Zeilalis and Vince Gallagher each accounted for an even dozen, while Walt Sibiski threw in 10.

Howell Leads Visitors

The Bees' main scoring punch rested in the person of John Howell, their six-foot-four-inch center. The big senior lumped-in 18 points to the Anderson for the night's high-scoring mark.

Five and a half minutes of the initial period had passed before the Maroon-shirted squad of Baltimore U. was able to penetrate the Greyhounds defense for a score. This tally made the count read 14 to 2.

In an announcement made recently, it has been revealed that a trio of Loyola soccer players, Tom Lind, Jim Bullington, and Armand Luzzi, have been named to the Coaches All-Maryland Team for 1949.

Lind and Bullington were named to the first eleven, and Luzzi was awarded honorable mention. All three had been important cogs in the Greyhounds' offensive, which compiled a season's record of four wins and four losses.

Swimming, Wrestling Teams Set For Openers

Following the Christmas holidays, Loyola swings into a full-time winter athletic program when the swimming and wrestling teams meet Dickinson College and Johns Hopkins University, respectively, on January 7.

Although lacking the outstanding talents of last year's senior stars, Coach Jake Fisher looks to veteran holdovers to carry the third year defense of the team's Mason-Dixon swimming crown.

Eleven Returnees

Among eleven returnees are Jack Rimblell, team-captain and free-styler; John Mahler, diver; Ed Miller and Bill Klarner, breaststrokers; Tom Maskell, backstroker; and Andy McCormick and Johnny Allen, who will handle free-style relay assignments.

A host of promising freshmen are on hand to bolster the Greyhound tankmen and fill vacancies that will result from mid-year graduation.

Improved Dickinson Squad

Dickinson, defeated by the Loyola swimmers last year by a score of 46-29, has a better and improved squad this season. The Carlisle team boasts Dick Whitmore, Middle-Atlantic titheholder in the free-style events, plus a well-balanced group of mermen.

Johns Hopkins' wrestling team, holder of the Mason-Dixon championship for four straight years, looms as the season's first sizable obstacle for the Greyhound grapplers.

Loyola Defeats Morris-Harvey

by Gene Conroy

Loyola's cage squad handed Morris-Harvey College of Charleston, West Virginia, their first defeat of the season last Saturday evening when they topped the Eagles by an 80 to 67 count.

In rolling to their third victory of the season, the Greyhounds gave one of the best performances to be seen on the Evergreen court in a number of years. The Green and Grey not only showed offensive power, but also defensive strength.

King Leads Scorers

The latter fact was proven by the fact that the visitors, who, last year, led the nation on a scoring average basis with an average of 77 points per game, and win had been running roughshod over the opposition so far this season, were held to 67 tallies.

George Klug, the Mountaineers' high-scoring forward, who played the entire 40 minutes of the game, fired 34 points through the netting for the evening's top-billing in the scoring column. This output swelled King's collegiate total to 1,714 points or 585 shy of Jim Lacy's all-time collegiate high mark.

Anderson Scores 24 Points

For Loyola, Bob Anderson turned in 24 counters as he played outstandingly under the boards. The combination of Billy Johnson, Vince Gallagher and Mel Baldwin evenly split 30 points among themselves.

Tonight's game was broadcast back to Charleston, West Virginia, through the courtesy of Station WCAC, of that city. All of Morris-Harvey's games, both at home and on the road, are carried by air waves to Morris-Harvey fans who are unable to follow the team.

The task of guarding King turned out to be a tedious one as two Loyolans, But Zephir and Johnson, fouled-out in the process of attempting the job. Taking over the assignment, Gallagher gave an above-par performance. The whistle-blowing refs awarded King 24 charity tosses for the night. He connected on 16 occasions.

Terriers Rally To Win Over Greyhounds, 67-60

Loyola's basketball team suffered their first defeat of the young season in howling to St. Francis College of Brooklyn by a 67 to 60 score. The game, a December 2 affair, was played on the Terriers' home court.

Trailing by four points, 35 to 31, at the outset of the second half, the Brooklyn five rallied in the third quarter for 15 points while holding the Hounds to three markers. The Greyhounds were not able to again regain the lead.

Zedulis Leads Scorers

For the Green and Grey quintet, Captain Mike Zedulis turned in the evening's high scoring mark, as he rustled the meshing for a cool 24 points. Bob Anderson clipped in 11 counters, while Frank Barrett and Vluco Gallagher dumped in seven and eight tallies, respectively.

Jim Lulel was the big gun for the men from Flatbush, accounting for a score of points on five field goals and ten foul shots. The much-publicized Tom O'Connor was good for 12. Two other Terriers hit double figures. They were Roy Reardon with 11, and Ray Rudzinski, who hit for 10.

Terriers Lead In Series

This contest marked the tenth time the two schools have met on the boards. St. Francis holds the edge in the series with six wins to the Greyhounds' four triumphs.

The game also marked the first away test of the season for Loyola, and their only New York sortie of the year.

Green And Grey Quintet Set For Yuletide Games

by Andy O'Donnell

Beginning tonight, the Loyola Varsity Basketball team make a home stand against four of the toughest foes on their schedule. Representative teams from four states will display their wares on the Evergreen hardwood within the next two weeks.

The "Demon Deacons" of Wake Forest, South Carolina, are the first to grace the Loyola gym, moving into the home grounds this evening. Winding up last year's season with an 11-won and 13-lost record, the South Carolina boys are out to make this their big year.

Wildcats Face Greyhounds

December 19 finds the Wildcats of Villanova facing the Reitzmen in a skirmish which should be packed full of thrills. Led by Paul Arizin, a potential All-American, the boys from Pennsylvania should be the attraction of the season.

Prolific Paul dropped 85 points in one game last year, and finished up with a season's total of 534 points. This is a "must" game for the Hounds, and they will be out to upset the dope.

Ohio Conference Champs

Two shopping days before Christmas, December 22, the Green and Grey Varsity faces the Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan College. Boasting an undefeated home season last year, the Ohio Conference champs will be out to better their road record.

Jud Millhore, averaging 20.5 points per game, led the Ohioans to the league crown in 1948-49.

Denver "Buzz-Boys"

On December 30, the fast-moving Hounds will encounter the Regis "Rangers", of Denver, Colorado. With eight letter-men returning, the "Buzz-Boys" from the mile-high city are touring the East with hopes of a clean sweep. Last year saw the Rangers win 27 out of 29 in the regular season. In the post-season NAIB tourney, in Kansas City, they bowed to Hamline in the finals. In the NCIT affair, Regis survived and was crowned the National Catholic champs.

Bob Fisher, All-NAIB, and All-NCIT, leads a galaxy of talent for the "Rangers". Standing 6 feet-4 inches, this native Hoosier tallied 122 points last season to rank second in team scoring.

Pivot-Man Hefley

Bryce Hefley, at the pivot position, was last season's top point-producer on the Regis squad. This rangy center possesses a great hook shot and is invaluable in handling rebound chores.

The Hounds will be out to end the old year right, and this game will present ample opportunity to chalk one up in the victory column.

Towson Loses 56-43 Tilt To Loyola

by Ed Ward

With Captain Mike Zedulis giving a scintillating all-around performance, Loyola College conquered a scrappy Towson State Teachers team on the loser's court by a 56 to 43 score. The game, the Hounds' opening conference basketball tilt, was played Tuesday evening, December 6.

The fracas started sloppily as the first four points were scored on foul shots, but from this point on the Evergreen five settled down to the fast, steady game of which they are capable of playing.

Zedulis broke a deadlock at two-all with the first two of his 21 point output on a twlstug layup shot, and from then on the Greyhounds were never headed.

When Loyola took a commanding 31 to 13 lead, the game appeared to be on the verge of a rout. At this point George Kimmert, who with 15 markers to his credit was a bright spot in the Towson attack, led his mates in a rejuvenation which resulted in their climbing to a 21 to 31 deficit at half-time.

In the second half, Zedulis registered 13 of his 21 counters, and Bob Anderson accounted for six to bring his total to 12 for the night. Though the 'Towsonites' spirit was never dampened, their enthusiasm was to no avail as Loyola was awarded a 56 to 43 triumph.

Intramurals

Commissioner Tom Kane of the Intramural Athletic Bureau recently announced plans for the winter intramural setup. Among the Commissioner's proposals were the annual ping-pong tournament and the intra-school basketball league.

Walt Sibinski, table-tennis champ of last year, will not be able to defend his crown this season due to the fact that he is now a member of the varsity cage squad and there is a ruling prohibiting members of varsity or freshman teams from competing in the winter intramural sports. A likely contender for the honors will be Ed Hagerty, the '48 champ.

According to the Dean of 'mural activity, tournament and league play will begin in the near future and there is an ever increasing list of applications on hand for the two sports.

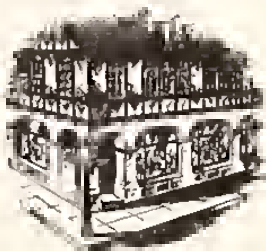

As usual application blanks for the basketball league can be obtained from the bulletin board in the gymnasium. The blanks must be completely filled out and returned to the Athletic Office by 5 p.m. this evening. Rules for the league play will be posted on the same bulletin board at a later date.

Barrett Is Number One Replacement
In Lefty Reitz's Court Machinations

by Joseph Steffens

The buzzer sounds from the scorer's desk, the referee motions his arm to the sidelines, and Loyola's "sixth man" takes to the floor in place of any one of the Greyhounds' starting quintet. Frank Barrett, lanky 6 foot-4 inch senior, is the number one utility man of this year's cage aggregation.

Frank began his athletic career while attending grammar school.

He held down the center spot for St. Paul's Parochial School and there gained his liking for the court game.

Two Years With Poly

In 1942 he entered Poly and played for their basketball team during the 1942-43 and '43-'44 seasons. Playing on this team with Frank were Bill Johnson, guard for the current Greyhound team and Jack Szmanski, who was a member of last year's squad. Jack, by the way, is Frank's cousin. In his Junior year, Frank earned a berth on the All-Maryland squad.

However, Frank didn't complete his high school as Uncle Sam called him into the service. He entered the Army Air Corps and attended radio school. After completing a two-year hitch, he was discharged in July of 1946, and the following September completed his high school course at the Veteran's Institute.

Enrolled At Loyola

In September of 1947, Frank enrolled at Loyola as a B.S. 11 student, majoring in Business Administration.

He made the basketball squad in his freshman year, when the Hounds boasted such notables as Paul Feeley, Wish Galvin and Tom Gierdel. Last season he also was a member of the pitching staff of the Greyhound varsity ulae.

Married Last December

Last December Frank married Miss Jane Wolczyk, who is a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. She is also a graduate nurse from St. Joseph's hospital. Her profession came in handy at the beginning of this school year when Frank suffered an attack of appendicitis. One week after being released from the hospital, he suffered a relapse and was advised by his physician to refrain from athletics until Spring.

However the game senior went out for the team and came along so well that the doctor consented to his playing.

So far this season Frank has been playing fine ball, and has fitted well into Lefty Reitz's fast-breaking style of attack. His best effort so far has been in the VPI game, Loyola's 1949-'50 collegiate cage opener.

Alumni Bowling

The winning streak of the team of '48 was stopped at eleven games when they dropped the final game of the evening on December 6 to the team of '40 by seven pins. But their two wins out of three for the night were sufficient to keep them in first place, two games ahead of the second place team of '50. The three games between '48 and '40 were the most hotly contested of the evening; '48 took the first two games by margins of twenty-one, and ten, pins.

The relative positions of the teams remained unchanged except that '49 moved into a fourth-place tie with '42 by taking two games of the set from '50 while '42 was dropping two to '47. Joe Donohue's season high set of 386 was not even approached this week.

Freshman Basketball

Frosh Look To Wildcats
As Top Foe Of BB Season

Loyola College's power-laden Frosh Greyhounds, having won four out of their first four basketball games, seem likely, off their early season record, to surpass last season's record of five wins and five losses.

The Pups have quite a score to settle with the Villanova Frosh when they hook up with the Wildcats, here at Evergreen, in a preliminary tussle on December 19. Last season they bowed to the Pennsylvanians to the tune of 86 to 38. Rumored to be as strong as their '48-'49 predecessors, the present Villanova frosh quintet should provide a busy evening for the Hound yearlings.

Hounds Meet Second Army

Following this fray the Junior Hounds encounter a foe which may prove to be every bit as troublesome as the aforementioned Wildcats. The Second Army cagers from Fort Meade are undefeated, numbering among their victims the Washington & Lee varsity five, and in all probability they will be undefeated when they come here on Dec. 22 to meet the freshman quintet. Last season the soldiers downed the now non-existent "B" squad by a comfortable margin.

On December 30, the Towson Catholic Owls, paced by Gene Shue, star holdover from last year's aggregation, will bring their small but fast team to Evergreen in hopes of extending their string of upsets. The Owls opened their season in auspicious fashion by upsetting Patterson Park's Clippers, the defending M. S. A. champs.

Begin Play In Earnest

After this the freshmen begin league play in earnest. They will ring in the new year with the American University frosh in a pre-varsity engagement on Jan. 4.

The Freshman five will then meet three more conference foes on January 10, 11 and 12, Mt. St. Mary's, Navy Plehes, and Western Md., respectively.

Five Games In Eight Days
New-Year's Task For Cagers

by Ed Hagerty

What the New Year will hold in store for Lefty Reitz's forces is undetermined just now, but good basketball play and plenty of excitement is a guarantee to Loyola's enthusiastic followers. Playing five teams in eight days presents a big task for the Loyola College hoopsters as the rivalries are rich with the adage "revenge is sweet". Four of these five teams fell at the hands of the Hounds last season and each is out to obliterate such memories.

American University invades the Evergreen campus on January 4 and it is certain to be a highly interesting evening. Last season the Eagles split in regular season play with the Reitzmen. Loyola copped the first clash 62 to 41 and the D. C. men rebounded with a 63 to 47 triumph. However in the "clutch" game the Green and Grey eliminated their ancient foe from the Mason-Dixon Tournament playoffs, by a 77 to 41 count.

Eagles Expect Big Year

This year the Eagles are looking forward to one of their biggest years. Boasting six veterans from last year's team, American U. looms as the team to beat. Roy Ishman, Boh Lamou, Fred Karner, Art Morales, Jack Neer, and All-Conference choice Ronnie Garshag are the returning players on the team which finished with a 17 and 9 mark last year.

On January 6, the Hounds travel to Cincinnati and meet Xavier U. Last season Loyola emerged victorious by 74 to 72. Returning for the host five is Jim Cady, who racked up 292 points and was second only to Tom McMullen, who has been lost by graduation. Last year the Xavierians gave powerhouse Kentucky a scare, losing in the final 4 minutes, 40 to 51. Their record was 16 and 10.

Dayton New Rival

On the following night a new rivalry will be created when Loyola meets Dayton University. The Ohioans boast a returning quint which last year had a 16 and 14 won-and-lost mark.

The Loyola five meets Mt. St. Mary's on January 10 at Emmitsburg. Last season the Hounds were triumphant on two occasions, by scores of 76 to 56, and 67 to 53.

Mounties Have Lost Clark

The Mounties have lost their high scorer Pete Clark and a few other starters from '48, but they can always be counted on to present Loyola stern competition. They ended with a 10-and-10 record last year.

Western Maryland is the next foe for the Green and Grey and revenge once more is the anticipation of the invaders. Last year it was Loyola on top by 77 to 49 and 72 to 47. Also, the Terrors would get great satisfaction out of downing a team which has their own former ace playing. Big Walt Sibiski led the Western Marylanders two seasons ago and now the big guy is on the starting five for the Hounds. The Terrors finished play last season with a 8-and-3 log.

Mr. Antisdel Lauds Campus Spirit

by Louis A. Reinhardt

"There is a fine spirit of co-operation in a small school like Loyola, where a close relationship exists between student and teacher," says Mr. Alan F. Antisdel, now in his third year as an instructor of English at Loyola.

Mr. Antisdel also taught freshman mathematics in his first year here. He currently teaches English and business subjects in the Evening School in addition to his duties in the day school.

He attended high school in his birth place, Janesville, Wisconsin, a small town 100 miles south of Chicago. He then matriculated at the University of Wisconsin, from which he was graduated with a degree of Bachelor of Science. He also did graduate work at Wisconsin at Loyola.

Mr. Alan F. Antisdel

sin and received his Master's Degree in philosophy.

For a brief period Mr. Antisdel worked at the World's Fair and in a steel mill. He then began teaching in a junior high school in Ohio before entering the Army in 1942.

Mr. Antisdel trained for a year in the United States before going overseas as a member of a bomb disposal squad in 1943. He saw service in Africa, Sardinia and Sicily.

After returning to this country in 1945, he was discharged from the service in November, 1945, after three years of duty. He then worked as a typist at Fort Meade and a sales engineer in Baltimore before coming to Evergreen in 1947.

He is currently working on his doctorate in education at the Johns Hopkins University. Mr. Antisdel has been married to a Baltimore girl for the past four years.

Post Office Lists Christmas Rules

(The following is an excerpt from "Evergreen Scenes," by Francis X. Gallagher. It appeared in the 1948 Christmas issue of THE GREYHOUND. This paper considers it necessary that these instructions be reprinted.)

1. It is unlawful to open other people's mail. Ditto for parcels.
2. Packages marked "Fragile" are not to be battered around like a football. They are to be given the same consideration as packages marked "Pig Iron."
3. There is to be no napping during working hours. (This is to be modified to suit the individual case.)
4. Truck drivers must make a special effort to avoid running down pedestrians who own war bonds. Others may be obliterated at will.
5. Trucks may not be used for dating or for carrying your girl friend's Christmas presents.

Dramatic Society Schedules Party For New Year's Eve

The Masque and Rapier Dramatic Society will sponsor the fourth in its series of monthly social events, a New Year's party which will be held in the house of Daniel Downey, 4204 Main Avenue.

Owing to limitations of space only those who obtain reservations beforehand will be admitted. A price has not yet been set. All members of the Masque and Rapier will be notified by post card shortly after the close of school for the Christmas holidays.

Howard France, vice-president of the society, will head the committee which will be in charge of the affair. Assisting him will be Joseph Bartolomeo, Bernard Wertzer, Kenneth Grimm, Thomas Garrity, Lawrence Rodowsky, William Volenick and George Strohecker.

National Societies Present Concert By Austrian Singers

• NFCCS

The Student Government of Notre Dame of Maryland College, in conjunction with the Loyola chapter of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, sponsored a concert by the Austrian Folk Singers at LeClerc Hall last Sunday.

The national tour of the singers was sponsored by the National Students Association, but local work has been done by the NFCCS, headed by Edward Pula.

Other NFCCS activities include the appointment of committee heads by Pula. Nell Bathon has been named chairman of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Committee, and Joseph McManus has been appointed head of the Liturgy Committee. Malcolm Rose will head the Overseas Service Program.

All students are members of the NFCCS. Anyone desiring to participate actively can contact Pula or his assistants.

The workshop originally slated for December 10 has been postponed until sometime in February. Definite notice will appear in a later issue of THE GREYHOUND.

• NSA

Lawrence Rodowsky and Kenneth Grimm will represent Evergreen at this Sunday's meeting of the Mason-Dixon Conference of the National Students Association at Notre Dame of Maryland College. Loyola sophomore Richard Cadigan, president of the conference, will preside over the meeting.

Cadigan also represented Loyola at the national conference of the National Students Association, which took place at Champagne, Illinois, last August.

An additional conference took place at Morgan State College last Sunday at which the student presidents of the various schools assembled to discuss future business, which will include a student questionnaire on Federal Aid to Education, a major project of the NSA.

Combined Sodalties Hold Yule Party For Orphans

The Junior and Senior Sodalties of Loyola, in cooperation with the Sodalties of Mt. St. Agnes and Notre Dame of Maryland Colleges and the Newman Club of Hopkins, sponsored a Christmas party for the children of St. Elizabeth's Orphanage last night at 7:30.

Every child was presented with a Christmas gift by a Loyola student dressed as Santa Claus. These gifts were purchased and wrapped by the Mt. St. Agnes and Notre Dame girls.

Entertainment was supplied by Loyola students William Mullikin, Jerry Kimmit, James Piraro and Robert Brooks. Santa led the children in the singing of traditional Christmas songs.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cookies and candy canes were distributed to the children at the party. There are 40 girls and 20 boys in the orphanage, which is located on Ellerslie Avenue.

The entire affair was under the direction of Senior Sodality Prefect Edward McNeal and Junior Sodality Prefect George Strohecker. This was the second party this year for orphans sponsored by the Sodality, the first being a representation of Loyola Night in the Loyola gym.

Last Friday night the Junior and Senior Sodalties combined for another joint activity, the sponsoring of a record dance in the Oak Room. Admission was free to all members of the Sodality.

The Sodalties are also backing the sale of Christmas cards for the benefit of the Jesuit Foreign Missions. A booth has been set up in the cafeteria at which these cards may be purchased. The price of the cards is $1.00 for 12 or $3.50 for 50.

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz—a date with the campus queen—or just killing time between classes—Owen's Sandwich Shop at the University of Colorado in Boulder is one of the favorite places for a rendezvous. At the Owen's Sandwich Shop, as in college off-campus haunts everywhere, a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is always on hand for the pause that refreshes—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.
